Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 20 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Unsettled tonight with strong winds, potentially severe along coasts.

This Evening and Tonight:
Windy with spells of rain, although parts of the south and east will see some dry spells. Winds will strengthen further with coastal gales turning severe at times and strong inland gusts. A mild night. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Friday:
Remaining unsettled with rain, heavy at times and persistent. Strong winds continuing, with coastal gales turning severe at times and strong inland gusts. Winds easing overnight. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Calmer on Saturday with sunny spells, but some showers are also possible. Windy on Sunday with a band of heavy rain followed by showers. Monday remaining windy with further showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.